Drill Between Halves.

Following the well known T drill and the beautiful handkerchief yell by the Aggie cadets, the two teams returned to the field; the Aggies determined to carry on the fight so successfully waged in the first half; the Colonels with the burning words of their fiery coach ringing in their ears. The fans settled back in their seats to witness a real fight, and they saw one the equal of which had never before been seen on a gridiron in this section.