Howdy, Ags!

For three decades, Stephen Ambrose and Gordon H. “Nick” Mueller, president and CEO of The National WWII Museum, were colleagues in the Department of History at the University of New Orleans—and best friends. During those years, they undertook many adventures, including the first overseas tour Ambrose led—a 1980 journey from the Normandy D-Day beaches to the Rhine River. He fell in love with helping others experience this epic story and wanted to go back as often as he could.

Ambrose and Mueller ran tours almost every other year for some 20 years, including one in 1994 commemorating the 50th anniversary of D-Day. It was during those years, as Mueller served as a dean and vice chancellor at UNO, that he and Ambrose established the Eisenhower Center for American Studies, which facilitated the collection of more than 600 oral histories from D-Day veterans. This included interviews and other research materials provided by surviving members of the famed Easy Company.

Beginning in 1990, Normandy tours were planned around the wartime route of the “Band of Brothers,” from the drop zones around Sainte-Mère-Église all the way to Hitler’s Eagle’s Nest in the Bavarian Alps.

Ambrose’s research and interviews eventually led to the best-selling book and HBO miniseries Band of Brothers. When he learned that Easy Company veterans were in New Orleans for a reunion, he went to their hotel and introduced himself, saying he was there to help preserve and share their stories. Subsequently, Dick Winters and other Easy Company members were frequent participants in the Museum’s tours and symposia.

Personal and professional friendships brought together the stories of these soldiers at The National WWII Museum—in both the oral history collection and the exhibits. With exclusive rights to this collection, the Museum is proud to feature many of the Easy Company interviews during this remarkable journey.

The Traveling Aggies have an exclusive invitation to join the WWII Museum on the 2019 offering of Easy Company: From England to the Eagle’s Nest, a tour built on the experience of two friends whose goal was to bring to life the experiences of the Greatest Generation.

I invite you to join the Traveling Aggies and The National WWII Museum on this program offering rare access to sites, extraordinary guides, leading WWII historians and the finest accommodations. There is simply no better way to learn about and honor those courageous Americans known as the “Band of Brothers.”

Born and raised in the Bronx, New York, James “Jimmy” Madio is one of seven children. At the age of thirteen, on his very first audition, James landed a role in the Steven Spielberg family adventure, Hook, and never looked back. Madio’s big break as a young actor then came when he co-starred with Leonardo DiCaprio and Mark Wahlberg in the highly acclaimed film, The Basketball Diaries. After a number of independent roles, Madio found himself once again, on another Spielberg set, this time as a lead cast member in the Emmy Award-winning HBO miniseries, Band of Brothers, portraying WWII hero Sgt. Frank Perconte. This would become a turning point in Madio’s career, putting him in the national and international spotlight in a timeless piece that continues to air today. Moreover, Madio continues to support troops by speaking at WWII veteran engagements around the world. HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE
EISENHOWER’S COMMAND FOR D-DAY

As the Supreme Commander of the Allies, it was up to “Ike,” Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, to make the final decision to launch the invasion of Normandy on June 5, 1944. Due to less-than-favorable weather reports, there was serious concern amongst many within the Allied high command that casualties would be extremely high. This was especially the case for the Allied airborne forces. Air Marshal Sir Trafford Leigh-Mallory, who was in charge of the planes that would deliver the paratroopers to their drop zones, feared that the casualty rate for these elite troops could be as high as 75%.

Ike made the decision to postpone the landings by one day, pushing D-Day back to June 6, 1944. As he gathered his team the next night for a final war council, he polled his commanders again, and again Leigh-Mallory stressed his concern of the weather conditions and the well-being of the airborne forces. Despite these warnings, Eisenhower knew that the invasion couldn’t be postponed indefinitely, so he made the tough decision with the words, “OK, let’s go.”

Richard “Dick” Winters began his association with the 101st Airborne Division’s 506th Parachute Infantry Regiment as a platoon leader in Easy Company. By war’s end, he commanded the 506th’s Second Battalion, which included his old company. Although the attrition of war played a part in Winters’ rapid advance through the ranks, it was his superb leadership and ability to complete tough assignments that endeared him to the men under his command. The men of Easy Company who survived the war attribute their survival to many things, and the leadership of Dick Winters is always near the top of the list.

Easy Company: England to the Eagle’s Nest visits sites that Winters and his men made legendary, including: Brécourt Manor where they knocked out a battery of German 105’s on D-Day; the “Crossroads” in the Netherlands where they took on a force many times their size; Foy, on the outskirts of Bastogne, where they endured hell from both the Germans and Mother Nature; the site of the “Last Patrol” in Haguenau; and finally, the Eagle’s Nest, where the men of Easy Company enjoyed Hitler’s famous mountain retreat.
Day 5: Normandy, France
September 6: After breakfast, depart for the Utah Beach area to tour the landing beach and visit the Utah Beach Museum, which offers the oral history of Dick Winters on the 2nd floor. Next, take an exclusive tour of Brécourt Manor, made famous by Easy Company’s action here on June 6, 1944. Enjoy lunch on your own in the small town of Sainte-Mère-Église, where this afternoon your guide will recount what it was like for the villagers here to see paratroopers dropping from the night sky. The group stops at the Airborne Memorial and the Airborne Museum before heading to Marmion Farm. This evening, transportation to Bayeux is provided for you to enjoy an evening and dinner at leisure.
Accommodations: Hotel Lion D’Or (B)

Day 6: Normandy, France
September 7: Today, travel along rural lanes, past hedgerows, and over causeways to La Fièvre, where elements of the 82nd Airborne fought off four days of attacks from German troops trying to retake this strategic bridge. Next, visit the historic Château de Bernaville, where a little-known event involving US paratroopers factored heavily into the Allies’ D-Day success. The château was the headquarters of German General Wilhelm Falley who was visited by Rommel just prior to D-Day, and killed here by American paratroopers at 4:00 a.m. on D-Day. Next, travel to Beuzeville-au-Plain to view the monument to Lt. Thomas Meehan’s downed C-47, and hear his story.

After an included lunch during your visit to the Normandy Victory Museum, learn the story of Easy Company at the important town of Carentan, which linked the Utah and Omaha Beach forces. End the day’s touring at the Dead Man’s Corner Museum and with a visit to the church at Angoville au Plain. A “Farewell to Normandy” dinner is included this evening.
Accommodations: Hotel Lion D’Or (B, L, D)
Day 7: Normandy to the Netherlands
September 8: Bid farewell to Normandy and head to The Netherlands. Along the way, view episodes from the Band of Brothers miniseries and excerpts from other WWII-themed movies. Stop for lunch and independent exploration in the quaint town of Amiens, France. Relax on the coach this afternoon. An included dinner at the hotel greets you upon arrival in Eindhoven, enjoy a group dinner at the hotel.
Accommodations: Hotel Pullman Eindhoven Cocagne (B, D)

Day 9: Eindhoven / Arnhem / Nijmegen
September 9: Today’s tour covers the American areas of Operation Market-Garden – the failed, yet heroic Allied attempt to cross the Rhine River in September 1944. Visit Easy Company’s drop zone and follow its path of liberation to see where Dick Winters led the attack at “The Crossroads,” the subject of Episode 5 of Band of Brothers, and where members of the company helped rescue more than 100 British airborne troops who were stuck behind enemy lines across the Rhine in Operation Pegasus. The touring day ends in Arnhem and the “Bridge Too Far” before the drive back to Eindhoven where guests enjoy an evening at leisure.
Accommodations: Hotel Pullman Eindhoven Cocagne (B, L)
Day 8: The Ardennes

September 10: This morning, guests may choose to take a guided tour of Eindhoven, explore the area independently, or relax at the hotel. The optional morning tour includes details on the actions that occurred around Eindhoven, with visits to the Joe Mann Memorial and the Robert Cole Memorial.

During an afternoon tour of the Netherlands American Cemetery, learn how local citizens “adopted” the graves of individual soldiers after the war, and how local families still maintain the same graves to this day.

After paying our respects to members of Easy Company who are buried there, continue to the medieval market town of Clervaux, Luxembourg, in the heart of the Ardennes. Along the way, the tour guide presents an overview of the Battle of the Bulge – Hitler’s last-ditch effort to defeat the Allies in the west, and the largest land battle fought by the US Army in World War II.

Accommodations: Golf and Country Hotel (B, D)

Day 9: Bastogne

September 11: This day is dedicated to the heroic defense of the besieged crossroads town of Bastogne. Band of Brothers Episode 6: “Bastogne”, along with today’s visits to the Madasson Memorial, a monument honoring the memory of the American soldiers wounded or killed during the Battle of the Bulge, and the Bastogne War Museum, provide insight into the experiences of Easy Company during the harsh cold winter of 1944. Guests may choose to climb in the foxholes of the Bois Jacques forest that provided some shelter to Easy Company.

The Bastogne Barracks, where Gen. Tony McAuliffe of the 101st gave his famous reply of “NUTS!” to the Germans’ request that Americans surrender, completes the touring day in Bastogne. Free time is provided during the day for lunch -- and perhaps a visit to one of Bastogne’s many shops offering famous Belgian chocolates

Accommodations: Golf and Country Hotel (B)
Day 10: Luxembourg City / Haguenau
September 12: Before departing the Ardennes, the final stop is at the Luxembourg American Cemetery and Memorial, where guests visit the graves of Easy Company members and Gen. George S. Patton. Guests continue to Haguenau for lunch and then walk the "Last Patrol" of Easy Company, where they held fast against Operation Nordwind for more than a month. Visit the MM (Musee Militaire) Park Museum, a new museum with an impressive collection of tanks and other large artifacts of the era. Arrive in Ettlingen this evening and enjoy dinner and exploration on your own.
Accommodations: Maritim Hotel Stuttgart (B, L)

Day 11: Dachau / Zell am See
September 13: Located ten miles northwest of Munich, the Dachau Concentration Camp was established in 1933 to hold political prisoners. Throughout the rest of the 1930s, the camp grew to hold Jews, Roma, Slavs, and more groups deemed unworthy by the Nazis. In 1943, as war raged across the continent, the Nazis constructed more than 150 subsidiary camps near Dachau where prisoners were often worked to death. The terrible conditions in Dachau and throughout the subsidiary camps led to a widespread typhus epidemic by the end of 1944, as the Allied armies were preparing to enter Germany. When the first American troops approached the camp in April 1945, the sight of the prisoners and the living conditions tested even the most battle-hardened soldiers. Episode 9 of the miniseries portrays Easy Company discovering one of Dachau's subsidiary camps at Landsberg. After discussing why World War II was fought, the group heads to the Bavarian Alps, as Easy Company did, for the final chapter of the journey.
Accommodations: Grand Hotel Zell am See (B, D)

Day 12: Berchtesgaden
September 14: On the final day of touring, guests take in the spectacular views from Hitler's Eagle’s Nest, captured by Allied forces in May 1945.
Returning to Zell Am See, guests view sites where Easy Company was stationed after V-E Day. Guests reflect on the journey during a farewell dinner at the hotel, overlooking the lake featured in the final scenes of Band of Brothers.
Accommodations: Grand Hotel Zell Am See (B, L, D)

Day 13: Zell am See / Munich
