James Earl Rudder
Leadership on the Battlefields of Europe

The National WWII Museum is thrilled to partner with the Traveling Aggies to bring you to the sites of an Aggie hero’s legendary leadership. In 1943, Lt. Col. James Earl Rudder ’32 took command of a new, elite force within the U.S. Army, the 2nd Ranger Battalion. Overseeing their training in the United States and in England, Rudder proved himself to be a great leader, building troop morale and maintaining unit cohesion. On D-Day, Rudder led 225 men in an assault on Pointe du Hoc, a steep, 100-foot-high cliff to the west of Omaha Beach. Making it to the top, neutralizing the German defense and establishing the first U.S. command post in Normandy, the Rangers became legendary for their actions.

The Antarctic Peninsula is a pristine polar wilderness featuring abundant wildlife and spectacular scenery. Aboard the M/V Sea Spirit, explore the last continent to be discovered. The air gets colder and daylight grows longer as we head south across the infamous Drake Passage, accompanied by albatross. Our first sighting of the White Continent is the South Shetland Islands, historically significant and rich with iconic Antarctic wildlife. Our time in the Antarctic Peninsula region focuses on the Gerlache Strait area, where towering mountains, immense glaciers and blue icebergs create a picture-perfect setting for incredible penguin and marine mammal encounters.

This cruise to the Antarctic Peninsula is an authentic expedition in a wilderness of epic proportions.

Over 50 years ago, Lars-Eric Lindblad led the first civilian travelers to Antarctica. In 1967, he repeated the feat in Galápagos. Regarded as the father of ecotourism, he believed that educated people who saw things with their own eyes would be a potent force for the preservation of the places they visited. Since 1979 his son, Sven-Olof Lindblad, grew this legacy by expanding transformative travel experiences in the world's most remarkable places. Under his leadership, Lindblad Expeditions has built the most advanced fleet of expedition ships in the world and created the most in-depth programs to ensure unforgettable experiences. He has expanded the conservation ethos his father began, not only committing to being 100% carbon neutral, but also by giving back to the places we explore.

Cover your travel investment with Travel Insurance Services®!

For more than 10 years, The Association of Former Students has chosen USI Affinity Travel Insurance Services® to provide travel insurance plans for former students and friends. Every year, Travel Insurance Services® provides coverage for thousands of traveling alumni—either participating in Traveling Aggies tours or while traveling on your own!

Why do I need travel insurance?

Making travel arrangements is a major expense—from airfare and accommodations to tours and events, it can all add up very quickly. But what happens if you're forced to cancel your trip due to an illness or family emergency? What do you do if you get sick when traveling and need to be seen by a doctor?

When the flights are booked and the tickets are purchased, you don't expect that you'll need to cancel your trip. Things like medical evacuation, trip cancellation and emergency assistance services are the last things on your mind. But once in a while, the unexpected does happen. Travel Insurance Services® has been designing travel insurance for alumni organizations since 1973 and offers coverage for many things that can go wrong.

Why choose Travel Insurance Services® for my travel insurance needs?

By purchasing a ‘Plus’ or ‘Elite’ policy within 21 days of your initial deposit, you can take advantage of special early purchase benefits which really set Travel Insurance Services® apart from competitors, including optional Cancel for Any Reason benefits, and even coverage for pre-existing conditions among other benefits. Many travel insurance providers review the last six months of your medical history to track down any pre-existing medical conditions, which are usually not covered in policies. However, on the Select Plan Travel Insurance Services® only reviews the last 60 days of your medical history, which allows you more flexibility and freedom.*

How do I get more information?

Travel Insurance Services® is happy to help you navigate through various plans and find one that best serves you and your traveling companions’ needs. For more information: Call (800) 937-1387 Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. EST, or learn more online at my.travelinsure.com/aggies.
